SPIRITUAL ADOPTION PROGRAM

Week 38

[Isaiah 49:1 Hear me, O coastlands, listen, O distant peoples. The Lord called me from birth from my mother's womb he gave me my name.] I wonder what great Saint I will be named after and strive to emulate? Soon my mom and dad will know what color my hair is? That is, if I have any hair at all. When I am born my hair may be an inch or more long or it may be fuzz! My skin is still shedding its lanugo, down-like covering. My skin is so soft and plump. The shed lanugo goes into my amniotic fluid. As I ingest this fluid, the lanugo, along with other waste products will become part of my first bowel movement. Get those diapers ready, Mom! Well all this is very exciting, but I really need to rest up for my birthday in two weeks. Please pray for a safe delivery for my mom and me. Thank you.

Dear Parishioners,

The following is an excerpt from the diocesan newspaper, The Monitor, regarding the mid-September interview by the Italian Jesuit newspaper La Civiltà Cattolica and translated for the American Jesuit periodical, America:

...the pope addressed...the challenge of finding a more visible role for women in a Church with an all-male priesthood.

"I am wary of a solution that can be reduced to a kind of 'female machismo,' because a woman has a different makeup than a man," he said. "The Church cannot be herself without the woman and her role. The woman is essential for the Church. Mary, a woman, is more important than the bishops. I say this because we must not confuse the functions with the dignity."

Pope Francis, whose simple way of celebrating Mass has attracted criticism from traditionalist Catholics, also took up the controversial subject of liturgy.

Pope Benedict XVI's 2007 decision to lift most restrictions on celebrating the Tridentine Mass "was prudent and motivated by the desire to help people who have this sensitivity," Pope Francis said. "What is worrying, though, is the risk of the ideologization of the (old Mass), its exploitation."

The pope also said that the liturgical reform that followed in the wake of the 1962-1965 Second Vatican Council is "absolutely irreversible."

NATALIE GRANT: A FREE CONCERT FOR SANDY SURVIVORS

COUNT BASIE THEATRE, RED BANK
 Wednesday, October 16, 2013, 7:30 PM

Tickets ARE FREE, but must be obtained through the Box Office

Offering hope in the midst of life's storms proves to be a central theme for Natalie Grant, a Grammy-nominated, five-time Dove Award winning Female Artist of the Year, who is set to release the highly anticipated album, Hurricane on October 15, 2013 from Curb Records. "I've journeyed through a lot over the past three years," says Grant. "This record is full of my stories and is a reminder that no matter how dark the struggle may seem, I am not alone. And through writing these songs, I've been reminded that hope always wins."

Natalie will offer hope to the victims of Sandy in a free concert nearly one year after the super storm plowed its way onto the Jersey Shore.

STELLA MARIS RETREAT CENTER
981 OCEAN AVE., LONG BRANCH, NJ 07740

Offering a prayerful opportunity for hope and healing for those affected and/or recovering from Super Storm Sandy

WAVES OF HOPE & HEALING IN THE WAKE OF SANDY

Sunday & Monday, October 27 – 28, 2013

Start: 2:00 pm Sunday; Ends: 3:00 pm Monday

Accepting both overnight guests and commuters

As a way to prayerfully observe the first anniversary of Hurricane Sandy, Stella Maris Retreat Center is opening its doors for a time of retreat and spiritual renewal for those in our local communities whose lives were so seriously impacted by the storm a year ago.

Program activities over the two days include:

- Speakers on topics aimed at helping people cope, heal, deal with stress and anxiety, and finding hope and sources of strength
- Healing walk on the labyrinth
- Art therapy, mandala creation
- Special dinner on Sunday and meals by our outstanding chef
- Journaling, deep listening, sharing opportunities
- Prayer and ritual, time for personal prayer & quiet
- Mass

This program is being offered to participants without charge through a generous grant from Investors Bank and the Sisters of St. Joseph of Peace who sponsor Stella Maris Retreat Center. For anyone interested in sponsoring a participant, donations gratefully accepted.

Pre-registration is required by October 18. First come, first served. To register or for program details call 732-229-0602 or E-mail:
